SOTY is also a marketing campaign that helped keep Thrasher Magazine afloat while others have struggled or closed their doors. Every end of the year, the legendary skateboard magazine highlights the performance of the most prolific sport driver. Winning the Skater of the Year trophy could be a moment of change of life in the career of a skater, resulting in more media coverage, more sponsors and finally more income. The publication, founded by Eric Swenson and Fausto Vitello in January 1981, debuted SOTY in 1990. The selection process begins with the announcement of the contenders. After the list of initial applications, all magazine readers and skateboard fans are invited to launch their votes online. When the voting process is complete, Thrasher publishers announce the recipient Skater of the Year. It is not clear how the fans' votes influence the editorial decision, but they do not play a critical role in the final selection. Thrasher's first Skater of the Year was the only and only Tony Hawk. SOTY criteria The criteria for choosing the finalists involve the participation of the pilots to video parts, special projects and acrobatics of defense of death, as well as the innovations and the entry of other professional skaters. The variables are flexible and subjective and include horrendous facial plants, signed films, magazine covers, event appearances, exceptional contributions to the skate industry, and also intestinal instinct. Although there are no written rules or suggestions to claim the prize, the complete list of Skater of the Year recipients breathes consistency and speaks for themselves. There has always been lobbying by advertisers, brands, skate shops, companies and even athletes themselves because there is a lot in play. But in the end, the SOTY is always someone who was above his- an experienced veteran, a talent coming, or a fearless young gun. The award recognizes the skater that has shown extraordinary skills, commitment, dedication, spirit and determination to sport, sport,getting competitive success or pushing the boundaries of skateboard. Only two drivers won SOTY twice - Danny Way (1991 and 2004) and Chris Cole (2005 and 2009). Never a female skateboarder won the Skater of the year. Retrieved 13 May 2012.
