Eustis, Ph.D., Robert F. Clark, D.P.A. and Michele C. Adler, M.P.H. Ulines Health Departmentto the more than 2,400 nationally participating hospitals with atrial fibrillation, heart failure, stroke, heart attack, or experiencing cardiac arrest during the hospital. The participating GWTG hospitals receive feedback on their performance on key quality measures that are critical in the care of these patients. To date, more than 9 million records of total patients were included in GWTG. As part of the ongoing commitment of the American Heart Association to improve quality, we offer hospitals the opportunity to share data on the measurement performance collected by GWTG to provide information about hospitals; help patients understand what is important for stroke, heart failure, atrial fibrillation, heart attack and heart arrest cure; and promote transparency and hospital responsibility for cardiovascular diseases and strokes. Access the overview, FAQs and document sizes to learn more about GWTG public reporting. This website should not be used to find a hospital during a critical situation.
