From Reviewer May 13, 20 May 2020 I EZRA Bailey / Stone / Getting Laundry The search history is saved by the browser to speed up queries and offer results that click more often. The search chronology is saved in the browser cache, so some people cancel the search history for better privacy. If you sell your computer or do it away to someone else, you may want to eliminate the browser search history to protect your privacy. Internet Explorer (IE) Open Internet Explorer. With the open software, press "Control-Shift-delete" on the keyboard. This opens a new window. Select the boxes labeled "History of navigation", cookies and cookies and saved website data ". " Data and files stored in the cache "and" Cards that I put aside or recently closed ". Click" Delete ". Right-click on the" Trash "icon on the Windows desktop. Select" Vacuum recycling bin ". This completely deletes files from your hard disk. Firefoxopen The Firefox software. From the top tape, click On "History" and select "Delete Recent History" from drop-down options. Check the boxes next to "Navigation and download of the history" and "Body form and search". Click the "OK" button to delete the history. Click With the right mouse button on the "Recycle Bin" icon on the desktop. From the menu, click "Vacuum recycling bin". This fully removes the history files from your hard drive. From Ryan McAlister when you look for something using Yahoo! Engine research, words c Hiave are saved from your internet browser. This will help that the previous research reappears when you look for something similar at a later time. You can interrupt this automatic full functionality by deleting the history saved in the browser. Click on the "Tools" menu at the top of the window. Select "Internet Options" from the Tools menu. Click "Delete" under "Navigation History". Click on the "Tools" menu at the top of the window. Select "Options" from the Tools menu. Select "Privacy" from the options window. Select "Delete now" and click on "Saved form and search history" and "Delete private data à Settings> Account and Privacy> My activity. Anyway, you will probably have to enter the password before you can access this page. From here, it tap the three-line menu in the upper left corner, then select À ¶ ã,~ à "Activities delete activity ... This will open a menu that will allow you to delete all kinds of things from your account Google, such as announcement monitoring, assistant commands, image searches and much more. For the sake of this tutorial, however, we continue to concentrate on the research chronology. First of all, it touches the drop-down box that reads À ¶ ã,~ "All products, À ¶ ã,~ and scroll until you see À ¶ ã,~ À" search.ã, ã,~ after selecting the item Correct, you can choose a date range to eliminate: today, yesterday, the last 7 days, the last 30 days and all time. Choose your poison, then touch the button À ¶ ã,~ à "Delete ¶ ã,~ . At that point, a warning will be displayed to let you know that your search chronology can be important. If you are not yet convinced, touch the button À ¶ ã,~ À "okÀ ¶ ã,~ . You can't cancel what You are trying to do! And with this, your search chronology for the selected time period is left without a track. POOF! It is worth keeping in mind that this is not only for the search chronology on that particular device : This covers is all your Google account. It doesn't matter if you searched on your desktop, laptop, tablet or phone - these options cover the range. GAMM to.
