The goal is for a child to recognize the design and be attracted to what he is looking at. Children are the main audience of cartoons. Masters like Walt Disney, Hanna & Barbera, Chuck Jones, Jim Henson, Walter Lantz and many others have enchanted the world with their magical and eternal characters. Learn to draw a cartoon person and practice different facial expressions. My role here is to help you figure out the right way to put this puzzle together. I will teach you how to draw characters from the techniques presented. I guarantee you'll be shocked by how easy it is to create a cartoon expression that kids (and adults) will love! For some inspiration, take a look at the hundreds of character drawings on Envato Elements. Or for a shortcut, try a character-creating kit! Creating a cartoon character What you will learn in this cartoon Drawing Tutorial Fundamentals of human perception How to draw cartoon characters How to draw a cartoon face How to draw characters with different facial expressions How to draw characters with different ethnicities Easy drawing exercises Cartoons Understanding Human Perception Before jumping into cartoon face drawing cartoonist's drawing, we'll talk about the basics of human perception. Human beings have a very interesting characteristic: we can synthesize the details that make up a structure or an object in very complex ways in very simple and basic ways. This way we can represent anything through a few curves and geometric shapes. Can you tell me if the two images below represent the same object? As strange as it may seem, you can look at the two pictures and say, "It's a cat". It happens that, unlike artists, most people can't memorize all the details that make up a car, a dog, or even a child. So they begin to associate very basic and primitive forms with the specific characteristics of each object. How many children aged 4, 5 or 6 came out of school with a drawing of two circles and toothpicks on a piece of paper and said, "That's Mom and Dad!" You don't want to keep drawing like that, do you? So let's get our hands dirty and make cartoon faces! 1. How to draw a cartoon face Let's start with the cartoon face design. The basic shape of the cartoon is a circle. Circle Is All You Need (More of course). It is from the circle that defines the basic proportions of the character's head. Once the circle is ready, it is time to trace the facial axis. Draw a vertical and horizontal line that intersects in the center, as in the image below: How to draw the eyes of cartoons: Step 1 We learn to draw the eyes of cartoons. To make the eyes, draw an oval shape with a lightto the side at the top. Repeat on the opposite side. It is important to leave a gap between them of about the same size of an eye. As we are in the phase of preparation, you can draw another eye in the center to serve as a measure. Step 2 In the upper part of the circle, slightly thicken the portion which will be the eyelashes of our character. Place your eyebrows a bit 'above the lashes to create a sort of surprise. The eyebrow shape is free, and with practice will fit your style. Draw both direct students to the center (this is a very effective tactic used by leading cartoonists whose sole purpose is to make our characters look more cuter). Tip: To give more life and "realism" in our eyes, you can draw a small line under them to simulate a kind of wrinkle. This is another very interesting tactic that adds a special touch to our facial expressions. Step 3 We arrived to the most creative freedom of the entire course. Think about it this way: cartoon-style drawings, the main structure of a face is the skull and the character's eyes. It's at that stage where you define the identification with the outside world, ie it is already clear to people that you are drawing a character. Now we come to the jaw, we will decide if we want a fat or a thin character. They may be old, young, and so on. My character will be young. Then we draw a real jaw for him. Step 4 When designing a nose viewed from the front, it is common not to use a lot of detail. If you draw only its tip, chances are you already achieves a convincing effect. It is also very common draw only one side of the nose, the idea that this is the opposite side of the light. We correct our character on the nose. Step 5 As our character is a child, we will make a cartoon mouth: something simple just to represent an expression of innocence. Note that when you draw a child's mouth, the lips should not be drawn! In cartoon style, the children, regardless of gender, are fairly simple mouths. A good and expressive track already does the job. Step 6 The ears are seen from the front view (@ because our character is in front of the camera), so that the internal cavities do not appear. Then we'll just a simple shape using a basic perspective (more below). Step 7 The shape of our skull is already defined by the circle that we made at the beginning, right? So we just need a haircut very simple and childish to give life to our boy. Let's do it now. How to Draw Hair Cardboard! Help! Slowly, slowly ... there 'nothing to fear. No need to be a stylist or a fashion designer to make perfect hair, there's no right way to style hair, so you have to try To create the ideal haircut you want. Just remember that the hair is responsible for defining the personality of our characters. Strangely, hair can express the age, rebellion, conservatism ... amazing, right? By the way ... What is your hairstyle?! Oh, it doesn't matter ... An An and the fast way of drawing the hair cartoon is to find photographic references on the web! I always do: grab a fashion magazine or try a Google search. After finding the ideal style, put the image as a reference next to your drawing board (or tablet) and start making a simplified cartoon version of it. Well, it seems that we have completed our character successfully! Congratulations! Now we play with the cardboard design ideas inspired and create a completely different character with the same model that we used for little Tommy (yes, I created a name for him), 2. How to Draw a passage from the older one character Here are some more cool cartoon characters to draw. The more old characters can be easy cartoon drawings. As usual, we start with the eyes. This time we draw faster, adding wrinkles, eyebrows, and eye pupils. Note that we have not changed much; we just expanded his eyebrow a bit '. The older men have more thick eyebrows, occupying more space on the forehead. The cilia make no difference in men; They are always drawn in the same way. Step 2 This time we will increase a little 'chin. Try something. Our character already has a "look" different! Is very good. We will proceed by choosing the ideal nose for him. Step 3 Following what we did before, we create the nose. This time, I'll do a nose completely different from before. Note that the ends of the nose are positioned very close to the bottom of the eyes. It is an effective technique to use when designing bigger and wider nose. The idea is always to exaggerate to get a good result! About overkill, we eliminate the mouth of our character in favor of another artifact ... Step 4 I decided to use another technique now: instead of drawing the mouth, simply draw a big mustache to create a better person for the our character. Done! A large and exaggerated mustache for our old friend! Step 5 Remember what I said about the hair that help to represent the age and personality? Look. We just added the side hair and we left bald above. Incredible as it creates a totally different look, is not it? Also note that I have taken the same ear by Tommy, our beloved boy. This is the advantage of working on models. And 'the magic of the cartoon! I think our friend is a mad scientist! 3. How to Draw a female character Let of the easiest cartoon drawings. I do not know ... I think Tommy needs a sister! It 'was very just' out. Now we create a sister to him, as if by magic: Hey! How did you do it so 'quickly? Very simple ... Women tend to have more delicate facial structures. Here is a female guide Face of the cartoon step by step: Thin Eyelashes Larger and Expressive Thinner Chin Small nose with fewer details Long hair (use a real reference and choose any style you want) Here. These are all the changes you need to make. Besides, I took everything I could from Tommy, her brother. After all, they're brothers, right? When you start to feel more comfortable, you can slowly create create create More details "realistic" for your characters. As for example the biggest students ... 4. How to draw characters with different facial expressions when talking about cartoon characters draw, emotions and facial expressions should come to mind. Now we are ready to add more emotions to our dear Lucy (yes, this is the name of her). Let of her drawing her after receiving the news that school holidays came to the end ... even in this case, we get something totally different only with the addition of two things: the tears and the new shape of her mouth Bother Isn't it amazing?! Now let's go back to Tommy and ask him what he thinks about this: Hmm ... I have the feeling that Tommy is planning something! Note that I have completely changed its expression only by following the instructions below: make a lower eyebrow of the other cut the eyes at half with the eyelashes adding a smile (one side is higher, following the eyebrow ) Move the eyes pupils to stay under the eyelashes and this is everything! We have achieved the expected result with only these few changes. The hair, the ears, the nose, the chin, and the circular shape of the eyes are the same! Simple like that! 5. How to draw a profile view Looking for more easy to draw cartoon characters? Here are some more cartoons drawing ideas. Draw the underlying model again. Now we will learn how to do Tommy and Lucy from the Profile view: we will be fit the face of both now: note that, in profile, is the ear staying in the center of the circle. Be aware of the main differences in the structure compared side by side. Pay attention to these details when drawing male and female characters: Tommy eyebrow is more thick. Lucy's chin is slightly projected in front of the face. Lucy's nose is more subtle and pointed. Lucy has big, female eyelashes. 6. Play with corners in cartoon drawing face eyes, nose, mouth, ears ... All the details that make up change Make their shape if seen from different angles. It is very common to see cartoon characters looking in every possible direction with different angles of recovery, because they will need to react to situations and objects that surround them. This helps them to bring more to life! Notice how the eye format is simplified when converted into a cartoon style. See red the oval shape in contrast with the circular shape of the real eye. A real nose is composed of different cartilages. Note how its shape is drastically simplified in the cartoon. Understanding how the mouth with different angles is essential. Remove excess details and try to keep only the basic shape of the lips. The ears are also greatly simplified. Easy cartoon design Exercises, now it will be put into practice all that we have learned so far ... Below you will find a cartoon Face Basic design model (only circles and directional guides), where we can practice our ability to draw in different positions: the brand Let eyes in different directions for each of the circles ... now, we add random jaws, with different sizes and shapes ... it's up to you now. So there are so Characters of cartoons easy to draw. I guess you can walk alone and explore the techniques I gave you to complete the drawings. Remember that cartoon face design has two premises: simplifies facial details in rounded shapes. Exaggerate facial expressions. Once you have managed to draw the direction of your eyes and have chosen the right children, try to use your creativity to still build many faces you want. You can be sure that if you practice at least ten minutes a day with the techniques presented here, drawing the faces of cartoons will be natural for you as a breath. Let's sum it up! To reinforce what I said throughout the tutorial, we remember the correct steps for how to draw a cartoon face: make a circle that will represent the skull of our character. Set the direction in which your character will look and mark the guidelines. Take the contour of the eyes in an oval form. Draw the pupils of the eyes (make them indicate the nose, if you want a cute character). Don't forget the eyelashes. Choose the correct eyebrow, depending on the age and sex of your character. Draw an appropriate jaw. Draw simplified ears. Look for haircut styles in Google (or a magazine) and use them as a reference for your sketch. Celebrate! Below is my version: example of how to use the same model to build distinct emotions. Note that only the eyelashes and eyebrows were changed. Nothing more!!! 7. How to draw characters with different ethnicities we are approaching the end of our cartoon face design tutorial. As a last advice, I would encourage you to continue experimenting with facial expressions and, when possible, invest more in facial studies. Find out how eyes and mouth behave in different situations. Take a look at different ethnicities and key features. For example, those of an African ethnic origin tend to have a slightly flattened nose and more rounded cheekbones. When possible, try to give a little more realism to your characters. Observe the behavior of people in real life. Look at the photos, study the style of your favorite artist or look for inspiration on the Internet. It is when we look at real life that we can extract quality information for our designs. But remember: observing the real world does not mean copying!
