Through our scale and extensive reach, our team is able to deliver a truly global platform. We leverage our expertise across our businesses to ensure we are delivering the best solutions to our partners and companies. Our range of voices provides deeper insight and helps us to outperform over the long-term. Diverse TeamsA range of voices and insights Engaged EmployeesCollaborative teams united by trust Sustainable GROWTHReducing risk and driving value Climate ResilienceNavigating the impact of climate change Stronger Community TiesSupporting local communities In a changing world we are constantly evaluating our investment opportunity set, led by the thematic expertise of our specialized investment teams. Increasingly, ESG and impact themes are helping our investors assess investment opportunities from shifts such as: Emerging growth markets - for example, technologies driving better health outcomes at a lower cost, such as One Medical's platform, described here Market disruptions - the electrification of the vehicle fleet, for example, as seen through our Axltech investment in last year's report here Changing consumer preferences - growing demand for sustainable and transparent goods and services, as demonstrated through Weiman's growth in greener cleaning supplies here ESG integration in due diligence is led by our investment teams, with analysis and input from our dedicated ESG experts. We bring in specialized external ESG partners to help dive deeper on specific issues, such as climate risk modelers to help us assess potential physical risks from climate change. We focus on the most material ESG issues for a company and its sector, using the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB) sector guides as a starting point to focus our diligence. Each buyout investment advisory team includes an analysis of relevant ESG issues in its final investment committee memorandum seeking approval for an investment. Due diligence also provides an opportunity to include discussions of ESG- or impact-related value creation opportunities that may be embedded into a company's broader value creation plan. Once we own a particular portfolio company or asset, we monitor material ESG issues and assess opportunities to generate value from ESG initiatives and growth markets. We support portfolio companies to both evaluate ESG issues related to their businesses and develop their own internal capacity to manage these issues and opportunities, if not already in place. Our goal is to provide distinct resources that allow portfolio companies to develop ESG and impact approaches beyond what they may have otherwise: capital injections to upgrade equipment and advance R&D, support from our dedicated internal ESG professionals, connections to leading experts in ESG issues in their sector, institutional knowledge of best practices and reporting, and the leverage of other firm resources including cross-portfolio collaboration between our companies. ESG data is a core tool we use during the investment period to drive value - we track ESG key performance indicators (KPIs) across our investments for issues which are systemically important (such as diversity of boards and management teams), and several of our larger funds also track bespoke, material ESG KPIs for each controlled portfolio company. You can read more about our approach to ESG data here. On January 1, 2020, we completed our best-in-class conversion to a full C-Corporation providing a clear path to maximizing shareholder value with one share, one vote, and one class. For Shareholders and transparent structure shareholder economic rights through index and benchmark inclusion Given the permanent nature of our capital, we view the optimal hold period for a growing, profitable business to be forever. We believe a hold forever philosophy is in the best interest of our companies, as it allows management and ownership to ignore short term noise and focus on making investments which will strengthen a business' competitive position 10+ years into the future. Our ambition for each portfolio company is that with a long-term oriented decision-making mindset and a shared penchant by management and ownership to take smart risks, we will be able to achieve exceptional rates of long-term sustainable growth. Although our ideal hold period is forever, we recognize that many great operators prefer to build and sell businesses, and we are excited to partner with these operators and entrepreneurs as well. Our principal goal is to be good partners with everyone that we do business with. We strive to keep it simple, be straightforward, and be the business partner of choice. We believe in letting a good CEO run their business with autonomy. If they want advice, we are happy to provide it. But in most circumstances, if you have a good business with a good management team, what we bring is an encouragement to think big, be ambitious, and be tolerant of taking smart risk. We bring a strong balance sheet with significant liquidity which allows companies to strike when they see opportunities which before our ownership they may never have considered pursuing. We encourage our companies to invest for the long term and not worry about the short-term impact that investments/smart experiments can have on earnings. Given that we are owned by a single individual, we are extremely nimble, with no boards or committees and the ability to make decisions quickly. We can be highly creative and take risks that are not down the center of the fairway for most investment firms. We are patient, we wait for "the stars to align" and when they do we like to swing big. We get excited about deals with strong economics, great management teams, and reasonable valuations. Get 20% off purchases above $10. Apply discount code SUMMER21 at checkout.
