The SCL Education Group is a market leading education, skills and training provider inspiring the lives of millions of people. We positively impact people using our unique approach, delivering education, skills and training in a variety of sectors through a Sport Centred Learning approach. We believe everybody has the potential to be incredible and as a group, we provide a lifelong learning journey through a set of unique business divisions run by our inspiring and passionate people.Our Sport Centred Learning ID represents the positive impact and legacy we leave on the world, together we inspire lives and shape futures.THIS IS OUR IDENTITY. With over 20+ years of experience in sport we approach learning differently by embedding the key skills from sports into all we live and breathe. Sport Centred Learning is what makes us different, and the culture we have built is based around the physical and mental benefits of sport; creating a strong foundation to provide a lifelong learning pathway.Sport changed the lives of our founders, Lewis Field and Steve Franks, who were then inspired to change the lives of as many people as they could. Sport taught them resilience, mental strength and discipline, which they used as the core foundation of the SCL business. This unique approach allows us to focus on a set of key skills that have been shaped around this philosophy. Our skills are embedded into each business division and every sector we deliver our services too.SPORT CENTRED LEARNING.
