I always liked it a lot and enjoyed going through all new updates, from the introduction of clan wars to the last super-troop update. My favorite part of the game was the community you could only find them going Global and talk. You might encounter people from all over the world, compare the basics, boast about your clans, or simply to know the other. Updates and troop training Take a lot of time, so you get that time IÅ D just get on global since you can always find someone to talk to. I have just returned to the game after a long pause year anyway and it was To see that they removed the global chat. It was literally the biggest reason I played this game compared to other Knock off. I really miss and know that even the vast majority of players. I know you save money and work to do if it was gone, but maybe they should consider having a paid version of the game that includes the global chat or even a BC subscription I would literally stay there. Apart from this failure of a decision, the gameplay is large, well balanced and fun. Every game seems to be playing a chess game and getting three stars against a town hall above me makes me feel like an absolute legend.tldr: loves the game, Plz reports the global chat! The game is fine and I was playing for years, but I have never really paid much attention to the base of the manufacturer until recently. I was so enthusiastic to finally take the battle and use it in my attacks until I started noticing the serious targeting it has. I tried to use channel strategies to try to get the battle machine to attack where I want to go, but will choose to go to the most unnecessary buildings each time. I try to embark to go directly to the builder room, all other buildings are destroyed, the path is clear, but decides to go for the army campsite in the other side of the base. The most obvious problem that it is that it will mirror to guard post troops even if they are out of reach. If something, regular troops like barbarians and archers should be those to direct them while the battle machine does damage, but it is the opposite. Although the postal troops of the guard are in the middle of the base and the builder's room is precisely in front of the battle machine, it will still go for troops and will immediately die because it is literally surrounded by any defense, and the attack goes Only downhill from there. A similar thing happens with the Queen Archer since you are a remote hero but it's not so bad as the battle machine. You are practically useless most of the time. If it could be solved, the attacks would be much more successful. Good game but it's really annoying when you update the spell factory or update the barracks you can't use a troop until we gladly take 4 days to update the barracks only to get miners and less than update one different to the same level I won, being able to use my dragons of my child and with the spell factory there is only one so every time I update that I won "be able to use spells from that single 2 walls are very much expensive, I am a bit rushed th11, but my defenses are still high and my walls are just like 7and8 because they are very expensive to add a score of 1000 points but it doesn't matter because there are tons of units like eDragons who can flying on them I also listened to the level 15 walls cost 5m as the walls are practically useless, no one would spend 5 meters of gold on a wall unless they are at th14 and got the best and do not have or done nothing to do, donÅ € å.~ Å "€ t keep the maximum for the maximum my walls until the game is finished 3 air sweepers are also finished the price of a good price, but the way of Update 4 updates in general behave for a long time I don't have a mind waiting for a few days, but some of them like the long region to get to TH12 even with the golden pace takes like 11 days and I mean that the same is not It actually does anything up to 12 when it receives a Giga Tesla that also costs the way to update a lot to the developer, Supercell, indicated that app's privacy practices may include data handling as described below.
