Pirates of the LEGO Caribbean Movie Series Pirates of the Caribbean: The Video GameDisney Magic Kingdoms “He’s a Pirate” is a musical theme in the 2003 Disney swashbuckler movie, Pirates of the Caribbean: Curse of the Black Pearl. It is included as the 15th track on the film’s soundtrack, at 1:30 a.m., and was composed by Klaus Badelt (with the assistance of Hans Zimmer). Due to the success of The Curse of the Black Pearl, the score is heard in many media inspired by Pirates of the Caribbean, specifically media inspired by the movie series. Background The track is known as the main theme for Pirates of Caribbean movies. It is present at the end of every movie, and is the first theme heard as the roll of the final credits. A slight variation appears in the middle section of “Drink Up Me Hearties” on the soundtrack of the third film. In the soundtrack of the fourth film, the theme is heard again in the final credits roll, but has a Spanish guitar theme put into it by Rodrigo y Gabriela. In the soundtrack of the fifth film, he hears little during credits, included in the first part of the score “Beyond My Beloved Horizon”, composed by Geoff Zanelli, one of Hans Zimmer’s prosthetics. It takes its name from a line repeated in the movie that refers first to Jack Sparrow “ (He’s a pirate!” exclaimed by Weatherby Swann, to which William Turner responds with “And a Good Man”)! and later to William Turner as Elizabeth Swann’s last line in the movie. The cue also appears on Epics: The History of the World According to Hollywood as “Pirates of the Caribbean.” A number of remixes were released on a CD titled “Pirates Remixed.” A thirty-second excerpt from Drop Zone, called “Too Many Notes-Not Enough Rest” (also composed by Hans Zimmer,) had often been used in movie trailers (especially The Mask of Zorro and Pirates of the Caribbean: The Race of the Black Pearl,) and he is a Pirate bears a strong resemblance to this particular cue. Other Appearances in LEGO Pirates of the Caribbean: The Video Game, the track is heard in some scenes on numerous levels. It is also heard every time the player completes each level on the results screen. In “Disney Magic Kingdoms”, a short snippet of it is heard every time the player welcomes Pirates of the Caribbean characters. In Magic Kingdom’s “Happily Ever After” attraction, you feel towards the climax of the attraction where you feature sequences of heroes fighting. In 2017, the Fantasmic! revamp in California was heard during the Pirates of the Caribbean sequence replacing the classic Peter Pan sequence.
